THE NEWS OF THE WEEK.

A Daily Resume of Latest Happenings.

JUNE 12

Jesse Morrison, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Olin Castle, yesterday began serving a twenty-five year sentence in the Kansas State penitentiary.

Seven bodies have been recovered at Clifton, Ariz., after the torrent from the cloudburst of Tuesday night had spent its fury. Thirty persons are missing and the property loss will exceed $100,000.

The Russian Government has announced that neither outside aid nor advice will be received on account of the recent Kischineff massacre. No protest will be raised by the Czar's Government if entry is refused Russian Jew emigrants by any other country.

Adj. Gen. Murray, who was at Mayaville yesterday, expressed the opinion that troops would be sent there when the trial of the negroes who assaulted John H. Farrow is called. The negroes have filed a petition for a change of venue to Kenton county. The case probably will be called next week.

Mayor Hays, of Pittsburg, has been indicted by the grand jury, charged with misdemeanor in discharging Samuel Moore, an old soldier, from the city's employment. The case is being pushed by the G. A. R. men in order to test the Mayor's authority to discharge veterans, as he has done in several instances.

Water two to fifteen feet in depth covers almost two-thirds of East St. Louis, Ill., and only by energetic efforts on the part of citizens will the remainder of the city escape being submerged. The water last night broke through the Illinois Central embankment and poured through the city, thousands of dollars' worth of property being lost. Broadway, an embankment in itself, was the only barrier that yesterday kept the water from the northern part of the city, and even this has given evidence of failure. Many lives are reported lost in this flood.

John Jones, Elisor in the Jett and White cases, says he was attacked by an unknown man in the wilds of Macedonia county Monday night, while engaged in a snuff-making venture. Jones says the man seized his rifle and accosted him, telling him to follow him to a place where he would be killed. The only incident of importance during the action was the submission of an affidavit by the Commonwealth to remove Sam Arnett from the jury. The affidavit made some severe charges in reference to alleged attempts to influence the verdict.

The hearing of testimony was begun in the trial of Curtis Jett and Tom White at Jackson yesterday. Capt. H. J. Ewen was the first and leading witness for the Commonwealth. He declared that immediately after James H. Marcell was shot he saw Curtis Jett advancing on Marcell with a revolver clutched in both hands. Ewen ran from the courthouse door and crossed the street toward the post-office. As he returned to the courthouse he saw Jett peer out at a side door. Later Jett came out and walked away with Tom White. Four other witnesses testified, their evidence in the main corroborating that of Ewen. The story of Ewen was unshaken by vigorous cross-examination on the part of Ben Golden, one of the attorneys for the defense. In his opening statement to the jury Commonwealth's Attorney Hyrd declared he would prove by two witnesses that Jett had admitted that he had killed Marcell. One of those witnesses, Mr. Hyrd asserted, was Mrs. Mary Johnson, a sister of Marcell, who met and talked with Jett shortly after the killing. The jury is being closely guarded by soldiers. Col. Williams last night appointed a private guard, with Capt. C. W. Longmire as marshal and will have the streets of Jackson ordered to be patrolled by soldiers.

James P. Hall, Powell country's wealthiest citizen and a former Representative in the State Legislature, committed suicide by taking strychnine.

The War department has announced the appropriation of 50 percent of $2,000,000 appropriated by Congress for the purpose of equipping the militia of States and Territories. The sum of $17,310 was assigned to Kentucky.

James W. Staton, Past Grand Master of Kentucky Masons, 1- in a hospital at Lexington, critically ill. Mr. Staton sustained a paralytic stroke at Paris Wednesday night just after he had closed an address at the Masonic banquet in that city.

Washington friends of John W. Yerkes are inclined to the belief that he may accept the Republican nomination for Governor in Kentucky if it should be offered to him. He has not yet expressed a preference for any one of the three candidates.

The Court of Appeals has reversed the Franklin Circuit Court in the case of Traynor vs. Beckham. The suit was filed by John Traynor for a mandamus to compel Gov. Beckham to issue to him a commission as Police Judge of Nicholasville. Traynor was elected by the Council and prior to his election Gov. Beckham had appointed O. W. Stanley to the office. The court holds that Council has the right to fill the vacancy.

The Commonwealth introduced a number of witnesses yesterday in the cases of Jett and White at Jackson, among them Mrs. Mary Johnson, sister of the late James H. Marcell, who testified that Curtis Jett admitted in her presence to firing the shot that killed Marcell. The remaining witness gave evidence more or less corroborative of statements made by previous witnesses in regard to the general circumstances of the shooting. The most important event of the day was a statement made by Capt. H. J. Ewen, the State's principle witness, who declares that he was offered a bribe of $5,000 to forswear the testimony he had given for the Commonwealth. Ewen made the statement to State Inspector Hines and claims to have two witnesses who will substantiate it. The testimony of Henry Hines relative to alleged threats of poisoning Jett and White brought about a long and bitter wrangle between the attorneys.

A military conspiracy has resulted in the blotting out of the Romanovitch dynasty of the kingdom of Serbia and the proclaiming of a new ruler, King Alexander and Queen Draga, the Queen's two brothers, Prince Markovitch, the Minister of War, two royal aides and two other officers are known to have been killed. The King and Queen were assassinated at 2 o'clock yesterday morning in the royal palace, which the soldiers forcibly entered. A new Cabinet was formed after the assassinations and Prince Peter Karageorgievitch, pretender to the throne, was proclaimed King. Dispatches from Belgrade, coming through Vienna, say that the new Ministers of Justice and Finance planned the revolution. These same advisers, in relation to the details of the crime, say that the King and Queen were chased to the palace roof and there murdered by the soldiers. The Queen's two brothers were shot at their homes. Prince Karageorgievitch, the new King, is fifty-three years old and has three children. He has lived at Geneva since 1891, and though he declares his ignorance of any knowledge of the assassinations, the revolution is believed to have been hatched in the Swiss city.

Capt. H. J. Ewen, the principal witness for the Commonwealth at Jackson in a conversation with Judge H. H. Hines, State Inspector, testified that he was offered $5,000 to testify that the evidence given against Jett and White was incorrect and was given under great excitement and that he did not recognize the man who shot Marcell. Ewen declared that the alternative offered him if he refused to agree to this was death. Ewen said:

"Saturday morning a certain man came to my house and told me that a wealthy and influential citizen would give me $5,000 to change my testimony. I told the emissary to call back in the afternoon, and meanwhile I sent for Thomas Marcell and Charles Little and Attorney Patton and told them about the occurrence.

"They advised me to have two men concealed in the parlor closet when the emissary returned in the afternoon. I did this. I had two persons concealed in the closet, whose names I am not ready to give out. The emissary came and took out five $1,000 bills and offered them to me and I refused to take them. He also held other threats over my head. I can prove my statements when the time comes." Marcell made an attempt to suppress the facts in the case and Ewen said that the publication would increase the danger to him, but he gave out the statement for publication.

In a quarrel over a game of cards in Wolfe county George Treadway shot Gordon Riffe, inflicting a probably fatal wound.

Maj. W. H. Gibbs, who is said to have fired the first shot of the Civil War at Fort Sumpter, died yesterday at his home in Columbia, S. C.

As the result of an old grudge James Slayton was cut to death by his brother-in-law, Perry Bright, yesterday in Marion county.

A general strike of the machinists and boiler-makers along the U. S. D. railroad has been ordered. The men are out of Ashland, Lexington, Russell and other places.

The flood situation at Kansas City will be still further relieved today by the resumption of passenger train service between the two Kansas cities. The stock yards will also resume, after a shut down of two weeks.

Council Cassin called on President Roosevelt yesterday, and the two discussed the Russian Jewish situation at length. The Ambassador in an interview defended himself and his Government against charges of antipathy for the Jewish race.

Adj. Gen. Murray received a telegram yesterday from Adj. Gen. Wagner, United States army, saying that West Point, Harlan county, had about been determined upon as the camp-site for the maneuver of the regulars and the Kentucky troops of October next.

Friends of Senator Scott, of West Virginia, declare that he is the "original Yerkes man" for second place on the Roosevelt ticket, and point out that he launched the Kentucky boom a year before Hepburnites, who declare that he is the "original Yerkes man" for second place on the Roosevelt ticket, and point out that he launched the Kentucky boom a year before Hepburnites, who declare that he is the "original Yerkes man" for second place on the Roosevelt ticket.

Gov. Beckham has ordered Adj. Gen. Murray to send 100 militiamen to Mayaville next Monday to protect the negroes who are to be tried for assaulting John H. Farrow. The Frankfort company, with forty members, and sixty members of the Louisville batteries have been designated for the service by Adj. Gen. Murray.

The prosecution in the Jett and White case at Jackson rested yesterday after the introduction of two or three witnesses. The defense will introduce more than seventy witnesses and will make an effort to establish an alibi. The testimony brought out Friday did not materially strengthen the State's case, and there was an evident reluctance to testify on the part of some of the witnesses. One of those who appeared, Wilby May, was drunk and his evidence was not entirely coherent. The defense offered another motion to set aside the jury, which was overruled. Court adjourned at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and Elisor Jones was sent after certain witnesses who were reported to be hiding out. State Inspector Hines has returned to Frankfort.

Almost without a murmur the Serbian people have accepted the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga and the proclamation of a new ruler. Quiet prevailed yesterday throughout the kingdom. The new ministry met at Belgrade and a modest sentiment in favor of the creation of a republic was expressed. Royalists, however, were in a decided majority, and it is believed that the Parliament which meets Monday will confirm the actions of the military conspirators in proclaiming Prince Peter Karageorgievitch King. Later reports of the bloody hour in the palace vary in detail from the first description of the assassinations. There were ninety active participants in the tragedy. They fought their way to the inner chambers, where the palace lights went out and candles were resorted to by the soldiers. The King and Queen fled to a secreted chamber, which was located by one of the Queen's servants. The royal pair were slain without parley. Prince Peter Karageorgievitch, the newly proclaimed King, is still at Geneva, where he is awaiting developments. He said he would not leave for Belgrade until formal proposals come to him to ascend the throne.

It is reported in New York that the Northern Securities Company will voluntarily dissolve.

There has been a sharp increase in the number of cases of cholera in the Philippines since the beginning of the rainy season.

The Hon. E. E. Barton was re-nominated for Representative Saturday by the Democrats of Pendleton county. The convention indorsed Gov. Beckham, the State ticket and Mr. Barton's candidacy for Speaker of the House.

Many desertions from the ranks of the unions occurred Saturday in the strike of Chicago hotel employees. Attempts to inaugurate sympathetic strikes to prevent the delivery of supplies to hotels failed. The hotel owners remain firm and are importing much outside help to take the place of the strikers.

The Courier-Journal offers its readers a chance to share in its prosperity and at the same time to try their skill at making election figures. The terms of the guessing contest which it has launched, based on estimates of the vote to be cast for Governor of Kentucky next November, will be found fully set forth in an announcement in this issue. Look it up, read it and take a hand.

Quiet prevailed yesterday throughout Helgrade, and there were no outward indications that the city had witnessed a tragedy that will go down in history. The republican tendency of the Cabinet is insignificant, and when the Skupstehina begins its sessions tomorrow it is expected Prince Peter Karageorgievitch will be proclaimed King. A report from Paris says it was not the intention of the revolutionists to kill the King and Queen.

The prosecution in the Jett and White case at Jackson rested yesterday after the introduction of two or three witnesses. The defense will introduce more than seventy witnesses and will make an effort to establish an alibi. The testimony brought out Friday did not materially strengthen the State's case, and there was an evident reluctance to testify on the part of some of the witnesses. Court adjourned at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and Elisor Jones was sent after certain witnesses who were reported to be hiding out. State Inspector Hines has returned to Frankfort.

The Civil Service Commission, in response to a request from Postmaster General Payne, has made a report on the conditions prevailing in the Washington city post-office. The report shows a disregard for public interest, and indicates that the Washington office was used by the department for political and personal purposes. The investigation shows that many persons appointed by this method of transfer had failed in competitive examinations. Prior to the classification of the rural delivery service, a great many appointments were made, for which the commission says there was no reason, as lists of eligibles were at hand which could be drawn upon at any time. Later, when a congestion resulted in the service, employees were rarely for political or personal grounds, sometimes to the exclusion of merit.

The thirty-sixth annual convention of the Modern Woodmen of America will begin Tuesday morning at Indianapolis.

Gov. William H. Hall, of Porto Rico, arrived in New York yesterday with rosy reports on the prosperity of the island, in whose industries, he said, Americans are investing largely.

An Indianapolis Judge sustained the demand of defendants in a suit for damages brought by Louise Hadley, the chambermaid of Becker Washington fame, against the owners of the hotel where she was formerly employed.

Quiet prevailed Sunday throughout Serbia, and on the meeting today of the national assembly there is little doubt that Prince Peter Karageorgievitch will be confirmed as King. The Prince is expected to leave Geneva today, going in secret to Vienna.

The flood waters are slowly falling in the vicinity of St. Louis. John S. Irlington, the horseman who was arrested Saturday night for alleged connection with the killing of a naval reserve at Belleville, Ill.,

THOMAS MIMMIGH.

Thomas Mimmigh, Secretary of Municipal Court of the Ancient Order of Foresters; also interested in the Red Men and K. of P., and a rising young politician, writes from 408 West 29th street, New York:

"I am glad to have an opportunity to testify to the value of Peruna as a tonic. I suffered from a disordered stomach and a constant headache for two or three years. This was accompanied by a nervous irritability that kept me in misery by day and by night. I had heard and read so much about Peruna that I decided to give it a trial. After I had taken Peruna regularly for a month the symptoms all disappeared. To me it was like waking up from a terrible nightmare. My stomach is now in its natural condition. I eat well and I sleep well. I take this opportunity to recommend Peruna as a tonic for a system out of order."

THOMAS MIMMIGH.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

where a levee was cut, is locked up in East St. Louis while a Coroner's inquest is in progress.

There was an improvement in the service offered by the Chicago hotels Saturday, due to the filling of the places of the union waiters with nonunion laborers. The strikers suffered a severe blow in the refusal of the engineers and elevator men to walk out in sympathy.

H. J. Ewen, the chief witness for the prosecution in the trial of Curtis Jett and Tom White at Jackson, for the murder of J. H. Marcell, has begun to feel the vengeance of those whose murderous reign is threatened by his disclosures. His hotel, valued at $10,000, and representing all his savings, was fired by an incendiary and burned to the ground. Only a few articles of clothing were saved. Two men—teamsters in the employ of Hargis Bros.—were arrested on suspicion of firing the building. Ball was offered for them by County Judge Hargis and Sheriff Callahan, but they were held in custody for action by the grand jury.

H. J. Ewen has been made homeless because he has at the risk of his life, done his duty as a citizen in testifying against the murderers of J. H. Marcell. He deserves the sympathy and support of all good citizens, and already subscriptions have been started in aid of himself and family, who are left penniless. The Courier-Journal will receive and forward any subscriptions for his relief.

Interesting to Asthma Sufferers.

Daniel Hante of Ottumwa, Iowa, writes, "I have had Asthma for three or four years and have tried about all the cough and asthma cures in the market and have received treatment from physicians in New York and other cities, but got very little benefit until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar which gave me immediate relief and I will never be without it in my house. I sincerely recommend it to all. Sold by Louisa Drug Co."

The suggestion following came from Good Housekeeping: A hammock hung firmly according to the following directions will be safe and comfortable: The rope that secures the head and should be twelve inches or so in length, while that at the foot should measure four and a half feet. Arranged in this way the lower part only will swing free and the head be kept nearly stationary.

Starting Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Cough and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Westville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Croup. Unsurpassed by A. M. Hughes, Druggist. Trial bottle free, regular sizes 50c and $1.00.

of the Republican party.

We are authorized to announce J. S. THOMPSON, as a candidate for Representative in the Legislature, from the district composed of Lawrence and Floyd counties, subject to the action of the Republican party.

The two men who are believed to have burned H. J. Ewen's hotel at Jackson were discharged from custody on account of insufficient proof.

The office of Coroner would be one of the most profitable in Breathitt county, but it has been vacant for a long time. It is charged that certain officials do not want inquests held.

Bad roads cripple the prosperity of a county or section worse than anything else. If the money could always be put into practical and helpful hands, it would pay every county to build a system of good roads. But there is where the trouble comes—in getting it properly used.

The mountain section needs good roads more than any other, but has fewer of them. The people of central Kentucky are satisfied with nothing less than the best macadamized turnpikes, because they have tried them and know their value. The world-famous Bluegrass section would not be any ways near as wealthy today had it not been for its fine roads.

Over in the good county of Carroll, bossed by our latense and immaculate friend John Littlejohn, a jury sent a friend to the penitentiary for two years for horse-stealing, and then gave Davis live years for the murder of young Leedy. We would suggest that John quit pommeling the body of foebel with his Sansonian weapon long enough to pound better notions of proportion into the heads of his jurymen.

Congressman Hurlton, chairman of the House Rivers and Harbors Committee, is in Paris, where he is investigating the methods of conducting river and harbor work in France. He thinks some features of the system there might profitably be adopted in the United States. The Big Sandy river has the only dam in America on the plan of a favorite French type, and it is an improvement over those of the old country. One simple automatic attachment added by Mr. H.

F. Thomas, of Louisville, increased the facility of manipulating very materially. Our dam is raised and lowered in much less time than that required by the less perfect French dams.

There is now absolutely no doubt, if there ever was before, about the necessity of removing all the food cases of Breathitt to another point.
It is difficult to see why Judge Hwison would not prefer to do this, and thus escape not only the heavy tax, but the severe criticism which was only the natural result of the situation. With plenty of money behind them, Jett and White will, it is expected, make a desperate fight for a new trial. If this should be secured on the ground of an erroneous ruling, the criticism would be very severe.

Notwithstanding the discouraging season for farmers, it is the intention of the officials to hold the Lawrence County Fair just the same this fall. Let all the farmers get ready for it. Also in addition to the farm products, it is desired to have samples of coal, iron ore, and other minerals put on display very prominently at the fair.
There is plenty of valuable minerals in Lawrence County and it is time we were letting the world know it. Development is now fairly started on Big Sandy and we should take our place in the procession. It may be news to many of our people that there are large and valuable deposits of iron ore in our county, but such is the case.
Proper effort would result in the establishment of a furnace at Louisa. This is only a hint at the facts. We shall elaborate on the subject later on.

As told by an account on our first page, the $100,000 hotel property of H. J. Ewen, principal witness in the Commonweath in the Marion assassination case, in Breathitt county, was completely destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. Two of Judge Hargis' teamsters were placed under arrest by the soldiers upon a charge of having set fire to the building.
Arson is next to the crime of assault and merits almost as severe punishment. This last act shows that the feudists and assassins are still as determined as ever to violently dispose of every man who dares question their murderous course. This crime should so add to the righteous indignation of the good people of Kentucky that they will take such action as will

FALLSBURG.

The foundation stone for the Odd Fellows Hall has been laid and the contract for the building will very likely be made this week.
The building will be exactly like the one in Louisville. Didn't as many of our people go to see Sun Brothers show as usually go to see Robison's and others. Prof. El-kers, we think, is rather dilatory about his lecture being in the News, but we expect his intention is to show the real man. The prospects here for fruit is very good.
Dew berries are ready for use and blackberries will soon be. Some of the farmers are still planting corn for a late crop of roasting ears, but Andy Woods says he can sparo much more seed corn.

Si Montgomery shot his brother-in-law, Charles Fletcher, through the neck and killed him. They were on Panch-eon creek drinking liquor at a blind tiger and had stepped outside when Montgomery looked down into the barrel of his 44 to see if it was loaded. He then shot Fletcher. The bullet passed on and broke a bone in another man's hand. Montgomery took Fletcher by the leg and called his name three times after he fell, and then went home and went to bed and slept until 10 o'clock Monday, when he got up and went to the woods. He said he did not know anything about the shooting. Sheriff and deputies are after him. Sixty men were summoned from this county

We attended church at Yates-ever heard at that place. The text being John III chapter 6 verse 5, was divided so as to show the difference between literal and spiritual things, and his pleasant yet powerful way of preaching it showed clearly that the venerable minister was master of the subject and knew how to tell it to the understanding of his many hearers. It was a sermon long to be remembered and was highly appreciated by the large audience who came out to hear him.

A MOB

Visits Louisa. But Fails to Find its Victim. Exciting Scene Wednesday.

Louisa has this week been the scene of a kind of excitement not experienced here for a good many years.

Last Monday morning at 2 o'clock a mob searched the county jail for a negro, Ide Baldwin, who was landed there on the 8th inst., upon a warrant sworn out by Miss Lora Williams, the white girl who drowned herself on the 10th at Old Peach Orchard. This basis of the warrant was an alleged criminal assault made upon the girl.

At the hour named Jailer Al.
Hays was awakened by a call at the door. He opened a window up stairs and saw a party of 25 or 30 men. They claimed to have a prisoner to deliver to the Jailer, but he suspected the object of their visit and refused to open the door.

Finally they forced a door of the residence open and four men went up stairs, with drawn revolvers. Confronting Mr. Hays they demanded the keys to the jail, telling him that they had come after Baldwin. Hays refused to give up the keys, but was forced to unlock the jail. The mob made a search, but failed to find the negro. They seemed considerably incensed and accused the Jailer of lying to them.

The negro had accented himself under the bunk in his cell, which is very near the floor and does not appear to leave room enough for a man to get under. Matches were used for light. The negro's cell was visited two or three times, but they evidently believed he had been removed from the jail. After throwing a few inelegant epithets at the Jailer the men departed.

They were not masked nor disguised, but Mr. Hays did not recognize any of them.

On Monday afternoon the negro was taken to Catlettsburg by order of County Judge R. F. Vinson.
The examining trial was set for Wednesday. The officers feared trouble and took precautions to protect the negro. When brought from Catlettsburg the train was stopped three blocks below the depot and the guards took an unusual route to the court house.

Near there a large crowd, gathered mostly through curiosity, was encountered and the guards warned the people to stay at a distance.
This caused some excitement.
After arrival in the court room the Judge ordered the officers to search every man who entered. The case was called and the attorneys announced that on account of the excitement existing, an examination would be waived. The court then announced that Baldwin would be held without bail to answer to the grand jury the 4th Monday in August. Judge Vinson ordered the court room cleared and the prisoner taken to jail under heavy guard. This was done and there was no demonstration.

The greatest fear expressed by the officers is that the negro was in danger of being shot by some of the Jailer's relatives, had they seen an opportunity to do so without danger of injuring anyone else.

Shortly before the departure of the afternoon train an order was made to convey the negro to Catlettsburg. The only incident of interest that occurred in connection with the trip happened after the prisoner was taken aboard the train.
Two local negroes attempted to enter the car to bid Baldwin good bye, when indignant bystanders forcibly put them off the train.

Baldwin is about thirty years of age and married. He lived at Judge John Patton's, at Eden, for a number of years, and came here as a servant of H. P. Cassidy. Lately he has lived near Old Peach Orchard.

The age of the girl is given at 16 to 18. She was the daughter of Hutch Williams, whose family is well respected. The girl suicided two days after the arrest of Baldwin. The charge in the warrant sworn out by her is criminal assault. The negro injured over in his attorney several notes or letters alleged to have been sent him by the girl. She was here the day before her death and asked the County Judge to stop the case against Baldwin. It is said Miss Williams claimed that the negro forced her at the point of a pistol to sign the notes referred to, and her friends claim they were written by the negro. The feeling is very strong against the negro in the Peach Orchard and Richardson neighborhood.

The case is somewhat complicated, as these few particulars show.
It is very difficult to get at the facts. We therefore refrain from comment or further statement of the many conflicting reports, desiring to do no one an injustice.

Harry C. Corbin was taken to the home of his parents in Ironton Wednesday. His friends will regret to learn that he has all the symptoms of typhoid fever.

Action on Road Question.

and has just made an order to re-district the county as to road overseers, limiting the number to twenty, and paying each of them not exceeding $50 per year.

A Secret Wedding.

Quite a sensation was sprung on the streets here yesterday when it was announced that Miss Mate-wood Moore, of Blaine, Ky., and Mr. Farley, of this place, had been married since last Easter, and the groom had left today, not for Huntington as alleged, but to meet his lovely bride and begin the long deferred honeymoon in the green fields of Old Kentucky. The ceremony while not exactly a Grotto-green affair, was quite as romantic, taking place on the highway about a mile from here, while the contracting parties were out horseback riding. Rev. J. G. McNeely officiated and, excepting these three, no one knew of the wedding until today.

The bride is a daughter of one of the leading lawyers of Eastern Kentucky and sister to our fellow townsman, J. M. Moore, while the groom is a native of Logan county, widely known as a practicing physician, and very popular throughout this section.

As they start anew on their journey through life we wish Mr. and Mrs. Farley long years filled to the brim with happiness.—Logan (W.
Va.) Banner.

This news is a great surprise to the friends of the bride in this county. She was in Louisa last week visiting relatives and got away just before the news of her marriage reached the ears of the public. She is the handsome and talented daughter of Mr. F. H.
Moore, and is one of our most attractive young ladies. Dr. Farley is to be congratulated upon his good fortune.

The Public Roads.

The road from Louisa to Blaine is to the worst condition ever known at this time of the year.
Others may be as bad, but we have not had an opportunity to see them.
No road in the county is as much used as this, and the end nearest the county seat is, of course, most travelled. Work should therefore begin on this end instead of the other. The less important roads should be given attention after these worst needed have been put in order. The sentiment that this part of the county, or that part should have the forces just now because they are supposed to have been neglected in the past is the poorest argument imaginable. This is not a matter of sentiment, but one that demands practical, common-sense treatment. Prejudices, sectionalism, jealousies and spites should have no place in this most important of all our public matters.
There is now too much of it in evidence.

The road machine should start on the county seat and work out through the county on the main thoroughfares, taking them in the order of their importance. There can be no doubt about the correctness of this plan.

We had hoped that this work would be handled in a practical manner, with the one object in view of rendering the greatest good to the greatest number of people.

Sunday Excursion.

The C. & O. Railway will run a popular excursion from Louisa to Ashland and return Sunday, June 21st, 1903, making the extremely low rate of $1.25 for the round trip from Whitehouse and Kise, $1.00 for the round trip from Catletts-burg and Eloise, and one fare for the round trip from stations between that

MY FRENCH BARBER.

A Big Sandian Tries a Shave and Haircut in Paris.

DEAR NEWS:—

I have been thinking much of home of late, and I'll tell you why.
Stopping at a Paris hotel, I found myself in need of a shave and haircut. Wandering about through the endless corridors of the hotel in search of a barber, I finally ran into an exceedingly French Frenchman—a porter—who, after my going through various assaults such as rubbing my face and pulling out bits of hair, understanding my necessities, graciously volunteered to pilot me to the place where I hoped to see my face and head take on a more genteel appearance. And then to be shaved in a Parisian tonsorial institute—what could be better? It would be like a trip to fairy land, from which one would come back with a homely face touched into beauty and an unattractive suit of hair made abundant and comely!

But alas!—the host laid schemes of woe and men gang aft agley.
My rose-tinted dreams of a Paris barber and his shaving palace soon faded. Instead of being greeted by an Apollo dressed in latest French fashion, I fell into the hands of a huge, ungainly, butcher-like man who, after performing numberless feats of bowing, scraping, gesticulating, etc., led me (as a sheep to the slaughter, I was about to say) to a still uncushioned, straight-backed chair and shoved me down with a thug which instantly called to the surface of my nature all those unseemly characteristics which the Christian religion is designed to remedy. Instead of stepping into a room palatial in size, carpeted with rich velvets, and perfumed with the sweetest of Arabian odors—ah! me, I entered a two-four enclosure resembling a stall in a second-class railway stable!

After seating me in his murderous looking chair, he "yanked" from the depths of a chest-like drawer a long white garment which, for want of a better comparison, resembled a woman's night-gown. With a terrible blowing off of accumulated breath and blubbers and a violent thrashing out of both arms—all of which occurred at the same time—I understood that I was to wear this feanine robe while the operation was being performed. After some deliberation and much awkwardness, I managed to crawl, climb or creep —I hardly know which—into it.

New that I was satisfactorily placed in his torture-chair, this French adept at skinning people began his work of destruction.
As I remember, his first net-was to make a semi-circular movement about the chair and its helpless victim in a strikingly dramatic manner—like unto some general going out on a military survey. He did this, you will kindly remember, in a half squatting posture, his expression through it all warning me to prepare for death, or worse still, to be eaten alive.
And I never did relish tales of cannibalism.

Such a ferocious beginning, I thought, was certain prophecy of a tragic ending. That the prophecy was abundantly fulfilled, you may be enabled to better understand my tribulations if I report them round by round.

Round No. 1. Convinced that his victim was no easy mark, the Frenchman splattered my face, eyes and mouth with soap-suds. (According to American rules, this was a disgraceful violation, nice, soft lather being applied in Uncle Sam's dominion. But all I could do was to grit my teeth, and hope for vengeance.)

Round No. 2. Happy over his easy conquest, the Frenchman came up froth and glaring, awkwardly gripping a dull, deadly razor in his hand. Dealing me one terrible "swipe" on the right side of my face, I begged for mercy, but in a language my assassin could not understand. Moreover, this French fool was so intoxicated with a sense of his shaving ability that nothing short of a knock-down would sober him. Everything considered,—his age, weight and length—I decided that the "sobering process" was not mine to perform. So I just permitted him to slam.

Round No. 3. The Frenchman's blood-curdling tactics were as terrible as in the preceding round.
Honing his razor very much like a Lawrence county farmer whets his scythe, he then waved it three above his head, unconsciously intuiting a western Indian out to a scraping tournament. With patience I waited for the blow to fall, ever dreading to see that it might put an end to my misery.

Round No. 4. The "colloidal" blow was delivered in due time, followed by a scraping dreadful to withstand. He scraped, he hewed, he twisted, he mowed my face into an agony of pain. It made me homesick. I thought of all the barbers, living and dead, I had ever known, from Uncle Jim Brown —with his venerable razor and candle—down to his tall grown pupil, Joe Holt. If the shades of one or the reality of the other had only come to the rescue!

Round No. 5. With an air of blissful triumph the Frenchman waged his relentless persecution.
My pain seems to have given an edge to his brutality, which was momentarily growing keener.
"This has to be stopped," I yelled at the top of my voice. My protest was futile. Thinking he was the subject of battery on account of his skill, he smiled and bowed and scraped away. Nerving myself to the last full measure of endurance, I sat as quietly as I could, finding comfort in the promise that these light afflictions worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory. When the goat sounded, the Frenchman was as vigorous as ever, betraying no signs of fatigue from waging the contest. But the face of the vanquished, it were better not to describe.
And as for my French haircut, I gave fair warning, the reader of these lines will mention it at his own peril. I will say this, however, as a kind of curio-ty-tamer. Coming through Scotland, England and France I have seen hundreds of sheared sheep. So far as I am capable of judging, my French haircut made me look more like one of these beasts of the field than anything I think of at present.

This is what I cannot understand: Paris is unquestionably one of the greatest cities in the world. Her miles of clean streets, her superb parks, her magnificent buildings, her wonderful art galleries, her splendid hotels, her setting the pace for the fashion of the world—all these give her an enviable position among great cities.
Will somebody please explain why she can't produce a fairly decent barber.

PLAN BIG SHOW.

This Year's State Fair to Eclipse All Previous Efforts.

Premiums Aggregating $20,000 will be Awarded Successful Competitors in the Several Classes.

Although four months away, plans are already well matured for Kentucky's Second Annual State Fair, to be held this year on the splendid Fair Grounds at Owensboro, September 21 to 26.

A contract has already been signed for Kurkamp's band of forty pieces to play during the entire week. Popular concerts are to be given each day, the band being of such a character as to make these concerts among the most attractive features of the week.

So important is the fair considered by the railroads that they have already announced a half fare rate from all points in Kentucky, as well as special rates from Tennessee and Southern Indiana.

The fair is expected to be bigger and better this year than ever before. Premiums aggregating $20,000 will be awarded, and in some cases the premiums will be larger than those offered by any other State Fair in the country.

This is notably so in the Jersey rings, where $800 will be awarded for the winners. The Association has also set aside $2,000 for the Shorthorn classes, more money than is awarded at any other State Fair except Minnesota.

Of this purse, $500 will be awarded to Kentucky cattle alone. The handsome catalogues just issued, 15,000 of them show the important premiums to be as follows:

BEEF CATTLE—Shorthorns, $2,000, of which $1,000 is given by the Shorthorn Association; Herefords, $1,200, of which $500 is given by the Hereford Association; Aberdeen Angus, $900, of which $300 is given by the Aberdeen Angus Association; Polled Durhams, $850, of which $200 is given by the Polled Durham Ass'n; Galloways, $800; Red Polls, $150.

Dairy Cattle—Jerseys, $500; Holstein Friesians, $250; Ayrshires, $250; Guernseys, $250.

SWINE—Herkshires, $300; Poland Chinas, $300; Duroc Jerseys, $250; Chester Whites, $200; Tamworths, $150.

SHEEP—Shropshires, $150; Southdowns, $150; Oxford Downs, $150; Hampshire Downs, $150; Cotswolds, $150; Dorsets, $100; American Marinos, $100; Hambletons, $100; Cheviots, $100.

For the following classes of horses, premiums of $1,500, nearly 25 per cent of the total premium fund are offered:

Light Horses—Light harness horses, roadsters, carriage horses, gaited saddle horses, high steppers and ponies.

Heavy Horses—French draft, Percheron, French & German coach, Cleveland bays, Hackney & American coach.

Premiums of $800 are offered for mules and jacks. At the State Fair which was held in Louisville last fall, the breeders of mules and jacks organized a State Association and the Association will look to the success of the exhibit this year.

Mules and jacks have not been properly recognized in the State Fairs heretofore, and it is the intention to give them their proper place in the coming exhibitions.

Unusually handsome premiums are offered for garden and farm products and the work of the women in the kitchen and sewing room.

Catalogues can be had by addressing, L. D. Shropshire, Sec., Room 25 Board of Trade, Louisville, Ky. GRAMIAN VIRELAND, GEORGES CREEK.

Important to Farmers.

Having been appointed Chairman of the sub-committee on Grasses by Col. I. H. Hall, Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture of the State of Kentucky at the World's Fair, at St. Louis, 1901, we desire to have the cooperation of the best citizens in each county in the State to assist us in making a suitable display of all grasses, clovers, etc., and to accomplish this end will you be so kind as to assist us in getting such specimens as grow in your county?

We would like to have specimens of all kinds of sorghum, Kaffir corn, Milba maize, millet, Hungarian and Orchard grass, all kinds of clover and in fact every kind of grass that grows in your county.

We would also like to have about one half gallon of seed of every kind obtainable, well cleansed and put in neat cotton bags. All specimens to be gathered after full growth, but yet green, and dried in the shade, and then wrapped with twine and covered with some kind of cloth the entire length.

The smaller grasses to be from three to five inches in diameter and the larger ones from five to eight inches. It would be a good plan to put a small stick in the center of each bundle to prevent bending. All specimens must be cut as near the ground as possible.

Each bundle of grass or bag of seed must be marked on a tag with the exhibitor's name, postoffice, county and State, and this will show from whom and where they came.

After you get everything ready, put them in a safe and secure place and notify us, and some time next Fall we will notify you where to ship them for storage (at our expense).

We are very anxious to have our State make a grand display and hope you will render us all the assistance in your power.

Yours Respectfully,

J. W. SMITH,

Chr. Sub-committee on Grasses.

Paine's Celery Compound

Cures

DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, AND STOMACH TROUBLES.

The tortures and evils of dyspepsia and indigestion are experienced by thousands at this time. The dyspeptic's train of evils may be enumerated as follows: feelings of dizziness, languor, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, distension of the stomach, loss of flesh, difficult breathing, and the action of the heart is seriously affected.

All forms of dyspepsia are quickly banished by the use of Paine's Celery Compound. The use of this invigorating medicine affords the inflammation of the nerves created about the stomach; it opens up the sewers of the body and removes all waste matter; it cleanses the blood; it makes new nerve fibers; it restores digestive power, and promotes bodily strength and activity. Mr. Fred. Ross, Clarendon, Iowa, briefly writes of his happy experience with Paine's Celery Compound as follows:

"It gives me great pleasure to testify to the merits of Paine's Celery Compound. I can candidly and honestly say it is the best medicine in the world. Two years ago I was suffering from indigestion and nervousness, and was so run down that I could hardly walk without help. I used two bottles of Paine's Celery Compound and got better almost from the first dose, and have had no use for medicine since. I was completely cured."

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive in its progress. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney troubles are allowed to advance this kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the sure effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention "reading this generous offer in this paper." Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

His Last Hope Realized.

[From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.]

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1890, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one day in April. During his traveling about and afterward his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure, and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by A. M. Hughes.

The Ferris wheel, one of the attractions of the Chicago Exposition of 1893, was recently sold at public auction for $1,800, engines, boilers, and all. Originally the contrivance cost $362,000. Farm Notes.

Bees will not pay unless there is plenty of honey pastures. To simply procure a hive of bees and expect them to produce honey without anything for them to work upon will result in failure. Do not rob the bees until the honey season is over, unless the combs are full, and care should be exercised in so doing, as a failure to leave a supply of honey for the use of the bees in winter may result in a loss of the entire colony.

It is a mistake to expect that eggs will hatch precisely in twenty-one days. While this is the rule, it is not an invariable one. Some will hatch in thirteen days, others will require twenty-five days for incubation. The reasons are various—such as getting too cold, too much heat, lack of moisture, want of vitality in either or both of the parents, and the age of the eggs.

Just as soon as any crop of vegetables is finished in the garden, spare the location, and if any seeds are in the soil many of them will sprout. If so go over it again, which will save much valuable time and labor in the spring. Late summer and fall is the proper time to clean a garden, especially if weed seeds are to be eradicated.

This gives an idea of what a successful farmer thinks of having a supply of lambs on his place. "They are as a little army of laborers in my stables," he says. The latest two seasons the lambs on my place became very fat. They pick up weeds, wheat, and barley, and eat heads of turnips as fast as a man could; and then they gather, thresh, and lead it to themselves, at the same time that they furnish manure, putting it on the field and spreading it very evenly. They charge out a cent for all the work done, and they board themselves. I am enabled by their help to "gather up the fragments that remain that nothing be lost." A lamb needs about as much as a grown sheep for its support.

Worst of all Experiences.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newson, Decatur, Ala. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters and the result was miraculous. I improved at once and now I am completely recovered.' For Liver, Kidney, Stomach and Bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only the best is guaranteed by A. M. Hughes, druggist.

A Tailor's Miracle.

A tailor made a tailor-made And for it very well was paid. 'Twas padded, curved and overlaid, Yet gave no sign of all his aid. The dame who in it was arrayed With perfect figure swung and swayed, Although but rightly pounds she weighed, Yet with his cotton cloth and braid He hid each jutting shoulder blade And wondrous plumpness she displayed. This with his splendid tailor-made The tailor made a tailor made. —Life.

Lime is in general use as a fertilizer, and to a limited extent, also, as an insecticide. Testimony as to its value is conflicting, and this is due to its condition when applied. Lime as an insecticide ought to be in the form of a dry hydrate. To shell lime or lime-stone just enough water is to be added to make it, and dust on the insects when they are wet. Only soft-balled insects can be reached by this substance, and the application must be made so that the caustic properties of the lime may have a chance. The larvae of the potato beetle and a parasitic beetle are good subjects, and the testimony of its effectiveness on the cabbage worm is not wanting.

Get the Real Thing.

There is castor oil that is castor oil, and then there is "castor oil" that is not castor oil. The real thing is made from the castor bean, and the cheaper article is extracted from cotton seed. One "reaches the spot" and the other doesn't. If you don't believe it, try a dose of each. The cheaper article is the one usually sold at general stores, and at some drug stores. We sell only the pure, genuine article.

Same way with other DRUGS.

There are substitutes and adulterations almost throughout the line. Buy where you can get pure goods.
